U.S. Will Back Baghdad Pact But Won't Join

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—The United States pledged anew today to support the independence of Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Turkey, but it was reported to have balked at joining the Baghdad Pact.

The Baghdad Pact links Iraq and her three neighbors with Britain in an alliance against Soviet expansion in the Middle East.

Secretary of State Dulles personally assured ambassadors from the four Eastern nations of U.S. backing after they called to express continuing concern over Communist pressures inside Syria.

Britain Urges U.S. Join

But Dulles gave the envoys no reason to hope, informants said, that the United States would change its present opposition to joining the pact, despite a new plea by Britain that it come in.

Dulles talked with four ambassadors, who called in a group, about the same time as British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons he hoped the United States would "pass from membership of the Economic Committee to full membership of the Baghdad Pact."

In reporting on Dulles' meeting with the ambassadors, the State Department confined itself to stressing that the United States "fully supports the pact and the territorial integrity" of the four nations. A spokesman said this attitude is in keeping with a U.S. declaration last Thursday that this country would "view with utmost gravity" any threat to their territorial integrity.

Alliance Advocated By Dulles

Privately officials said there are no plans at the present time for U.S. membership in the Baghdad Alliance, a concept which Dulles himself advocated as a means of blocking Russia in the Middle East.

Additional pressure to join came today from Iraq's Foreign Minister Burhan Eddin Bashayir, who said in Baghdad there is also room in the alliance for Egypt.

Ike Will Tour Drought Areas

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower will make a personal inspection of drought areas of the Midwest and Southwest in mid-January to size up whether additional government aid is needed.

The President's vacation headquarters said in announcing this today that the trip—with specific dates to be set later—will last "several days."

Eisenhower plans to travel by plane for an aerial look at parching which has brought hardship to thousands of farmers and ranchers. He will also confer in the areas with representatives of those groups and with local government officials.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told newsmen he was unable to say at this time just which states the President will fly over and visit.

But Hagerty said that among areas hardest hit by drought are southern Colorado, southern Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas and Arizona.

Red Cross Committee To Handle U.N. Relief

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—The U. N. announced today it had agreed that the international committee of the Red Cross would distribute U. N. relief in Hungary.

The committee, a Swiss organization with headquarters in Geneva, already is handing out relief in Hungary from various Red Cross societies around the world.

New General Strike Urged

BUDAPEST, Dec. 5 (AP)—Soviet tankmen and Hungarian police, confronted by a new wave of patriotic fervor that resembled the revolutionary atmosphere, roughly dispersed demonstrating crowds in Budapest at least four times today.

The police, acting under Russian order, used their rifle butts to break up a throng of 1,000—men, women and children—who assembled in Freedom Square before the U.S. Embassy in a demonstration against Premier Janos Kadar's Communist government.

With two dozen Russian tanks patrolling in the square, the people had ignored orders to clear out.

"Down with the AVH," the throng shouted, referring to the secret police. "No more deportations!"

Children Arrested

Several demonstrators fell under the police onslaught. Some were arrested and removed, apparently to police headquarters. Witnesses said the prisoners included children.

Among those who saw the uprising was India's charge d'affaires, I. Rahman. He circled the square several times in an automobile. The Hungarians appealed to him to help free persons arrested by the police.

Russian tanks and armored cars moved in to put down demonstrations before the British legation—where women shouted, "Down with Kadar!" and "Where is Imre Nagy?"—and at Petofi Square and Calvin Square, near the heart of the city.

New Strike Advocated

Posters and leaflets appeared on the streets calling for a new general strike. Some demonstrators demanded a "national uprising." The Budapest chief of police urged Hungarians to ignore the strike call, saying it was put out by "irresponsible elements" seeking to promote a revival of the fighting.

Cooler heads thought a resumption of the revolt, crushed by Soviet arms in early November, was unlikely. Nevertheless, an air of tense expectation prevailed.

40 Hungarian Olympians Plan Freedom Break

MELBOURNE, Thursday Dec. 6 (AP)—Forty and possibly more Hungarian Olympians have decided to sever ties with their battlement homeland and seek asylum in Australia and the United States, sources close to the athletes said today.

There is a strong possibility that some athletes and officials from other nations under Soviet domination also may take advantage of their long distance from Europe and make a break for political freedom.

Those who already have come to a decision are cheered by the public announcement of American support.

Funds Being Raised

"The United States would look with favor," said American Consul General Gerald Warner in Melbourne, "on any pleas for political asylum from any Olympic games athletes—Hungarians or otherwise."

Anti-Communist Hungarians both here and in the United States have been raising funds for those who wanted to defect.

Of the 40 Hungarians reportedly committed, 10 to 15 expect to stay in Australia, with the remainder going to America. Five or six women and some top names are included among the defectors.

Jobs Guaranteed

In New York, the Hungarian Catholic League, through Secretary Adam Tarnoczy, said it was ready to sponsor any of the athletes who decide not to return to their native land.

"We will guarantee jobs to those needing them," said Tarnoczy, "and we will see that student members of the team are able to continue their studies in this country."

There was widespread belief the big majority of the group of 173 Hungarians would not go back if they did not have families in Hungary.

Cold Wave Moves Toward Midwest

BERLIN, Dec. 5 (AP)—The Soviet army today blocked a U.S. military convoy leaving West Berlin. The move raised fears of another Soviet squeeze on Allied road and rail links with this Communist-encircled city.

The U. S. Army said its weekly supply convoy turned back to West Berlin after Russian road guards imposed new restrictions on its free run along the superhighway to West Germany.

West Berlin lies 110 miles inside Communist East Germany and its lifelines to the west are the superhighway, one railroad and three air corridors.

The Russians halted the 10-ton truck convoy at their Dreilinden highway checkpoint on the West Berlin sector border. They confronted the convoy commander, Maj. Daniel L. Melvin, of Fayetteville, N.C., with new demands for identification papers and the right to search the trucks.

Melvin refused to yield to the Soviet demands, an Army statement said. Acting on previous orders, he took the convoy back to West Berlin.

It was the first time the Russians had obliged an Allied truck convoy to return to West Berlin since Russia's all-out blockade of the city in 1948.

U. S. Army headquarters here did not state what action it is contemplating, but a U.S. protest to the Soviets is considered a certainty.

Rockets For Poles

BERLIN, Dec. 5 (AP)—Communist Poland is planning to equip its army with rocket weapons and shorten the length of service for infantrymen, the East German news agency ADN said today in a dispatch from Warsaw.

The resignation will take effect not later than Feb. 1.

15 Arrested In Race Strife

Head Of Clinton White Citizens Council Seized

CLINTON, Tenn., Dec. 5 (AP)—The chairman of the White Citizens Council here was arraigned in federal court tonight on criminal contempt charges in a roundup of 16 persons accused of racial violence which closed integrated Clinton High School.

Federal officers fanned out and picked up 15 of those accused in short order. They still sought the 16th, who was reported to be a woman.

W. H. Till, chairman of the pro-segregation council, and five others were arraigned before hearings were adjourned for the night by U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor in nearby Knoxville. All denied the charges.

The officers who picked up Till said he was armed. He was taken to jail in handcuffs and his bond was set at $12,000.

Injunction Was Issued

Warrants for the 16 were issued by Taylor, under whose orders 12 Negroes were admitted to Clinton High this year. All 16 were charged with violating an injunction Taylor issued last September against interfering with peaceful integration.

The federal government stepped into the case for the second time after new racial disturbances which were reminiscent of those which followed the admission of 12 Negroes among more than 700 whites Aug. 27.

The latest disorders, including the beating of a minister outside the school and pushing of a teacher inside the school yesterday, prompted closing of the school yesterday "until further notice."

Others Arraigned

The others arraigned were:

Alonzo Bullock, unemployed preacher, bond $10,000; Lawrence J. Brantley, 50, unemployed, $10,000; William Brakebill, service station operator, $7,500; Clifford Carter, $3,000; and Jummy Pierce, teen-ager, $2,500.

The others in custody, who will be arraigned tomorrow morning, were:

Zella Nelson, Thomas R. Sanders, Henson Nelson, Clyde Cook, Cleo Nelson, Chris Foust, John B. Long, J. C. Cooley and Raymond Wood.

All were accused of "acts of intimidation" against the Negro students and "acts of lawlessness" in violation of the injunction.

Jobs Guaranteed

While a large armada of shipping converged on the port to evacuate the troops, British-French headquarters barred the servicemen from patronizing all local businessmen, even the peddlers. It announced that no more Egyptian currency would be issued to the soldiers for buying souvenirs and such.

The order was a crackdown against the local business community which closed shop tightly yesterday, and even withdrew peddlers from the streets, in defiance of a mandatory military order to open the stores.

The government has an overall majority of 59—sufficient to withstand a developing revolt inside the party against Eden's leadership.

Capt. Charles Waterhouse, a lifelong Tory and leader of a right-wing extremist group, told the House he would abstain in the voting as a protest against Britain's withdrawal from Egypt.

But he emphasized: "If I thought there was any chance by my abstention of putting the opposition—Socialists—in, I should no more think of abstaining than I should think of singing a song . . . in this house."

About a dozen other Conservative lawmakers are expected to vote in a silent protest. The government has an overall majority of 59—sufficient to withstand a minor revolt of abstentions.

There was still strong feeling against Eden's leadership among Tory legislators, evident in the lobbies of the Westminster Parliament. The 59-year-old Prime Minister is in Jamaica resting up from "severe overstrain." He is due back in two weeks.

Some influential Conservatives are saying Eden will be under pressure to resign soon after he gets back.

Eden has defended his government's policy down the line since President Gamal Abdel Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal on July 26.

Even Eden's severest critics concede it would be difficult to force him out as prime minister.

Father Of Six Crushed

BALTIMORE, Dec. 5 (AP)—A 35-year-old father of six children was killed in an industrial accident today in the Canton section of southeastern Baltimore. It was his first day on the job.

Dead on arrival at City Hospitals was Robert Holley. A load of steel on a forklift truck in the warehouse where Holley was working crushed him.

The British say the American government is ready to go along.

But the deal as tentatively envisaged—the British hope and expect it will never be necessary—would be something less than a magnificently altruistic gesture on the part of the United States.

The British plan would be to put up British-owned U. S. securities dollar for dollar as collateral for the dollars borrowed. A business-like rate of interest would be charged.

This is the essential meaning of Chancellor of the Exchequer Harold Macmillan's statement yesterday about using Britain's many millions of dollars worth of American securities to protect the British economy.

There is no intention to sell the vast bulk of these securities outright to raise cash.

The British government owns dollar securities worth from 750 million to a billion dollars.

In addition, it has—or until recently has had—60 million dollars worth of short-term U. S. government securities.

More than half of these short-term securities have now been sold, according to Macmillan's statement.

Plan For Visit December 16 Turned Down

Lodge Denounces Action As 'Affront' To U.N. Secretary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 5 (AP)—Red Hungary refused today to receive Dag Hammarskjold in Budapest on a mercy mission on Dec. 16 but still left open the possibility of a visit by him later.

The abrupt turn-down of the secretary general's plan to go personally to Hungary and initiate U.N. relief activities came as a shock and surprise to many delegates. Apparently it caught by surprise also the Red Hungarian foreign minister, Imre Horvath, who had recommended the date after consultations yesterday with Hammarskjold.

Horvath merely shrugged and smiled and said, "Apparently my government did not agree with me" when asked about the development. The word from Budapest was that the official request had been received, a statement which a number of delegates found puzzling in view of Horvath's agreement to the plan announced last night.

Lodge Blasts Action

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. denounced the action of Budapest as "an affront to the secretary general and to the whole civilized world . . ."

Others began talking about moves to revoke the credentials of the Horvath delegation if Hungary and the Soviet Union do not agree by Dec. 7 to accept U.N. observers in Hungary. The deadline was fixed early today by the Assembly.

The assembly was in the closing stages of a general debate on the world situation when the following broadcast by the Budapest radio was picked up in Vienna and relayed here:

"An authorized source today issued the following statement to MTI—official Hungarian news agency—in connection with reports that Hammarskjold is intending to visit Budapest on Dec. 16.

Welcome "At Later Time"

"Concerning the date of the visit, the Hungarian government retains its unchanged opinion expressed in its letter to the United Nations secretary general on Dec. 1. The secretary general is welcomed by the government at a later time, which would be suitable to both parties."

"In view of the fact that the Hungarian government has not received an official request fixing the date for the proposed visit and in addition to the fact that the mentioned date is not suitable for the Hungarian government it follows that the Hammarskjold visit will not take place on Dec. 16."

Some diplomats said they were puzzled by Budapest's word it had received no official request since

Reports That Dulles Will Retire Spiked

Secretary Fully Recovered From Operation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (UPI)—The State Department, putting the story to rest, was designed to end such rumors that Secretary Dulles would resign, announced today he has recovered completely from his cancer operation and is fit for "full resumption" of his duties.

Dulles, 68, underwent surgery a month ago for the removal of a cancerous section of his large intestine. He has been back at his desk since Monday.

Today Lincoln White, State Department press officer, read the following statement to newsmen:

"Secretary Dulles has been re-examined by his attending surgeon and internist, who found his general condition excellent. He has made a complete and full recovery from his recent surgery and is now fit for full resumption of his normal duties."

The statement came from Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton and Dr. A. D. Daughton.

Heaton, commanding officer of the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center here, performed the surgery Nov. 3. He was assisted by Daughton, Dulles' personal physician in Washington.

The secretary's serious operation immediately gave rise to speculation that he would bow W. Va.

Hanna's Acquittal On Tax Counts Asked

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Dec. 5 (UPI)—Counsel for Homer W. Hanna of Charleston filed a new motion in Federal Court here seeking his acquittal on five counts of an indictment charging evasion of income tax payments.

The motion presented yesterday by Atty. W. Bruce Hoff of Parkersburg will be sent to Judge Sterling Hutcheson of Richmond, Va., who presided at Hanna's trial in October.

The trial ended Oct. 31 in jury disagreement. Judge Hutcheson sustained a defense motion to acquit Hanna on an information in which the government claimed he failed to file a 1952 income tax return for his Hanna insurance agency.

The judge, however, overruled a motion to acquit Hanna on the five counts of an indictment charging him with evasion of $31,777 in income taxes during the years 1949-53.

Mindzenty Tortured 29 Days, Nights Before Trial

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (UPI)—When he collapsed, he was tortured by Red secret police for rest, but no drugs were used 29 days and nights before his trial to make him confess to trumped-up treason charges in 1949, he up treason charges at his trial, disclosed in an interview published tonight.

The cardinal said he was stripped nude, beaten for days on end with a rubber hose, kept in a cold, damp cell to irritate his weak lung, forced to watch obscene orgies, and questioned without sleep throughout the entire period.

Powell's Tax Affairs Probed

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (UPI)—A federal grand jury today began investigating the tax affairs of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) a Harlem Negro leader.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan issued a directive for production of Powell's congressional records and those of his congressional employees.

Two of Powell's secretaries were convicted during the past six months on income tax evasion charges.

Powell was unavailable for comment on the grand jury probe. He is on a trip to the Virgin Islands and is not due back here until Dec. 16, his office said.

The Democratic congressman attracted nationwide attention during the recent political campaign by calling upon Negroes to vote for the re-election of Republican President Eisenhower on the ground it would help the cause of desegregation.

Powell denied, on Oct. 25, what he described as accusations of "smear artists" that he was supporting the administration candidate in hopes he would avoid prosecution on income tax charges.

The trial ended Oct. 31 in jury disagreement. Judge Hutcheson sustained a defense motion to acquit Hanna on an information in which the government claimed he failed to file a 1952 income tax return for his Hanna insurance agency.

The judge, however, overruled a motion to acquit Hanna on the five counts of an indictment charging him with evasion of $31,777 in income taxes during the years 1949-53.

Sergeant Disagreed With Superiors' Orders For 'Phony Lineup' For Negro

BALTIMORE, Dec. 5 (P)—A Park girl woman who complained a policeman had molested her. Police sergeant testified today he disagreed with orders of superior officers to arrange what has been called a "phony lineup" for the complaint of Mrs. Anna Mae Nichols, 30.

The sergeant said he was told by the captain to line up policemen around at the time so Mrs. Nichols could try to identify the one she accused of making indecent proposals to her. She failed to pick out anyone in it as the subject of her complaint.

"Had you selected the lineup, would you have put anyone else in?" Assistant State's Atty. James O. Gentry asked McAnally at the trial of Capt. Gaeng and Sgt. Kenneth V. O'Connor on charges of misconduct.

"I would have," replied McAnally.

"Who?"

"I would have put Officer Savard in."

Patrolman George Savard has been charged for assault as the result of Mrs. Nichols' complaint.

He is the son-in-law of Sgt. O'Connor who had written "closed" to the woman's complaint with the words "It is not possible to find any cause for action."

Bookmakers, said the judge found State's Atty. Tom Taylor, as for himself, he warned that anyone convicted by him of bookmaking in the future will receive the maximum sentence of $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

McLaughlin, who has been a judge for a year, fined two of the first bookmakers to come before him $1,000 and three others $500.

Richard M. Crouse Sr., 42, and Alan Mowbray, 37, were fined the maximum. Fred A. Foltz, 43, Gerald Barnhart, 49, and Victor McSherry Sr., 55, were fined half the maximum.

Mrs. Nichols made her complaint in August 1955, and although she hired a lawyer she was not given a chance to identify Savard.

The State's attorney finally ordered him included in another lineup and Mrs. Nichols picked out Savard.

Mrs. Nichols complained that a policeman came up to a car in which she was parked with another man, took her in his police car to a wooded area, and made indecent proposals to her.

ARLINGTON, Va., Dec. 5 (P)—Joseph F. Heath, director of the AFL-CIO's Region 4, died today of injuries suffered in an auto accident near Winchester Oct. 1.

Heath would have been 49 next Christmas day.

The judge acquitted Wade H. Heath's headquarters were in Baltimore. The region he headed embraced Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Killed in the same accident was a regional staff member, Norman Greenblatt, of Wilmington, Del. Their car hit a bridge abutment at night on Virginia 7.

Heath, who lived at Springfield, Va., died this morning at Arlington Orthopedic Clinic. His injuries included a crushed chest and fractured hip.

Circuit Judge Warns Bookies At Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, Dec. 5 (P)—Circuit Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin gave his answer today to what he called a "test" of himself and a new State's attorney by the "sporting fraternity."

Bookmakers, said the judge found State's Atty. Tom Taylor, vigilant. As for himself, he warned that anyone convicted by him of bookmaking in the future will receive the maximum sentence of $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

McLaughlin, who has been a judge for a year, fined two of the first bookmakers to come before him $1,000 and three others $500.

Richard M. Crouse Sr., 42, and Alan Mowbray, 37, were fined the maximum. Fred A. Foltz, 43, Gerald Barnhart, 49, and Victor McSherry Sr., 55, were fined half the maximum.

The five were arrested on Oct. 5 after a two-week investigation by Charles Gross of the Baltimore Rackets Squad.

Judge McLaughlin castigated Mowbray for "having the effrontery to tell the court he was taking bets to Bel Air for friends" when he was arrested. Betting slips found on Mowbray also listed horses racing at New Jersey and New York tracks.

Prince Georges Co. Tax Rate Hike Hinted

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Dec. 5 (P)—County Commissioner Herbert W. Reichelt says that mounting costs of schools and public services may force an increase in the Prince Georges County tax rate.

He made the statement yesterday as he assumed chairmanship of the five-man governing board.

The remark was considered significant because it showed that at least one commissioner feels the county's financial plight may cause the board to back down on a previous pledge not to jump the present rate of $2.15 on each $100 assessed valuation.

Baltimore Zoo Offers Quarters To Army Pigeons

BALTIMORE, Dec. 5 (P)—The Baltimore Zoo is offering retirement quarters to a member of the Army's Pigeon Corps.

The offer was made by zoo director Arthur Watson following an Army announcement that 18 of its most famous birds will be given to zoos throughout the country.

The Army is disposing of its 1,000 remaining pigeons. They are the last of 40,000 used during World War II and in Korea.

In placing a bid for one of the pigeons, Watson said that perhaps one of them had helped save the life of a person having home ties in Baltimore. He said it would add to public interest if this was taken into consideration in selecting any of the birds to come here.

by Bob Considine

MELBOURNE, Dec. 5 (INS)—Grandpa's favorite pin-up girl, Annette Kellerman, now giving 70 a very hard push, but as saucy and controversial as she was before World War I, was an Olympic swimming pool the other afternoon.

Miss Kellerman, who shocked portions of the then civilized world (and probably entranced others) by scandalously showing herself in public in swimming's first 1-piece bathing suit, unceremoniously took the microphone during an intermission in the water-polo bloodletting.

"I hope my presence here won't cause Avery Brundage to declare everybody in sound of my voice is a professional," Annette sang out gaily. Mr. Brundage, the last living amateur, was either not present or fainted, for no sound came from him.

The trim Australian lady who once wowed U.S. yokels in 1909 with a form-fitting suit which in this day of the bikini would resemble canvas overalls, asked another generation of swimmers and swimming bugs, "Would you like to see a trick an old lady can do?" They would indeed. So, she stiffened beneath her flared print dress, touched her hands to the ground without bending them, then kicked one leg in the direction of the late Florenz Ziegfeld.

In her hey day, Annette was called the "Million Dollar Mermaid," "The Living Venus," "Neptune's Daughter," and "The Perfect Woman." Her silent movies, once threatened with wrathful censure, are not on TV at the children's hour in the states today because they are considered too tame.

Annette is married to John Sullivan — not the fighter. She posed in her hotel room doing a high kick a good foot over her white bonneted head, and told of her plans to take her one-woman show through the Australian hinterlands. In it she'll do "comical physical jerks," sing, dance and play the accordion.

Cultural Exchange Cutoff Wounds Soviets Deeply

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States could hardly have done anything designed to wound the Russians more deeply than to insinuate, by cutting off cultural exchanges in reaction to the Hungarian horror, that they aren't fit to associate with.

Since Stalin, the Russians have been at great pains to offset the widespread impression abroad that they are barbarians.

A part of the psychology of the Stalin era, when the Russians claimed to have discovered everything and invented everything, was to assert that they were, too, civilized.

The new regime worked like a social climber to secure invitations for its leaders to visit other countries. It relaxed Russia's own travel barriers and press restrictions in order to have its citizens accepted abroad.

Then came the Hungarian revolt, and the Russians acted in the only way they know how to act when cornered.

If Britain and France had not acted at almost the moment to hang at least a partial counter-weight around the necks of the free world, communism might have been completely ruined.

As it is, the ruin may only be it.

The gift was a 61-pound rock.

Canceller Peter Rainsworth of Bristol, England, presented the lieved that communism, godless rock to Schiro Friday after making full of contradictions of the trip on the Mississippi general moral code which man River from Bemidji to New Orleans.

The mayor of Bemidji had told 31-year-old Rainsworth to present the rock to New Orleans. Rainsworth suggested Schiro could use it as a cornerstone for a new civic building, but the councilman was not convinced.

The rock apparently had more use for Rainsworth. The Englishman, who started his trip July 1, had placed the rock in the front of his canoe to give it balance.

Special School Buses

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP) — The first of 15 school buses especially designed for children with cerebral palsy and other crippling diseases has been delivered to the city. The bus has rear doors equipped with a hydraulic lift for children confined to wheel chairs.

MOBILE, Ala., Dec. 5 (AP) — A prominent white woman sought unsuccessfully yesterday to buy a church for use as a Negro girls school.

Now she is going to have to do something to keep her troops from Hungary, if they are ever permitted to go home at all, from telling the people how Russ acts abroad.

It has happened before now that slaves, seeing other men die for liberty, have experienced the lighting of a flame in their own hearts which has eventually consumed their masters.

The board refused her request. The Ku Klux Klan later burned a cross in the driveway of her home.

The 103-year-old church Mrs. Mrs. Daponte sought to buy is located in a section where white and Negro residential areas adjoin.

Payroll Curb Studied

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 5 (AP) — The Emperor Charlemagne of the Franks was crowned on the site of what is now the church of St. Peter in Rome, on Christmas Day, 800.

Mrs. Dorothy Daponte made a high bid of $32,000 at a public auction of the St. John's Episcopal Church property. The bid was rejected when church representatives announced the property would not be sold for less than $30,000.

Mrs. Daponte created a furor last September when she requested that the Mobile School Board enroll a Negro girl in a white public school. She described the girl, Carrie Mae McCants, 12, as her foster daughter.

The board refused her request. The Ku Klux Klan later burned a cross in the driveway of her home.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.70 to $179.10 with the industrials up $3.60, the rails up 70 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Forest Fire Is Reported Under Control

The raging forest fire which spread over more than 500 acres of timberland on Allegheny Mountain, near New Creek, W. Va., Tuesday was under control yesterday.

Volunteers battled the blaze throughout the night, according to District Forester Tilden Norris of Romney.

Norris said two crews of 50 men each, under the supervision of three members of the forestry department, fought the blaze Tuesday. No injuries were reported, he said.

The district forester said investigation of the blaze is being conducted by his office.

The home of Sheriff Earl Kemp of Mineral County was endangered for a time, but was not damaged.

Keyser volunteer firemen, students from Potomac State College and other volunteers did an excellent job of fighting the fire, Norris said.

Miss Culp is an English major and is minoring in modern languages. She plans to teach in public high schools for two years and then enter the mission field. She is secretary of the Senior Class, Dorm Council and English Club, and is the discussion-group chairman for the 1957 Youth Conference.

The selections were made on the basis of scholarship, leadership in academic and extra curricular activities, citizenship and service to the school, and promise of future usefulness.

Owners Ordered To Clean Sewer

Three Cresaptown property owners have been ordered by Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, to clean out and open a clogged sewer on their property on grounds that its condition causes a health hazard.

The letter was addressed to Charles Dawson, Cresaptown, and copies were sent to his neighbors, S. A. Higgs and a Mrs. Cindy.

In Dr. Frantz's letter, a copy of which was sent to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, he notes that the sewer is on the property owners' land and it is their responsibility to keep the line open.

Unless the sewer is opened within three days, the letter explains, the Health Department will be compelled to order the County Roads Department to tear out the line and place the ditch back in its normal course.

The Reds Versus The Soviet Union

Soviet intervention in Hungary appears to be costing international Communism dearly. So does the program of so-called "de-Stalinization." Throughout the free world, Communist intellectuals are quitting the party, more labor is becoming disenchanted, left-wing Socialists and other "popular front" potentials are turning away.

A split is evident in the U. S. Communist Party. Back in September the national committee made public a draft resolution calling on the party to eliminate past "errors". Then, in the November issue of Political Affairs, John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, wrote that the party had lost members and "influence," and had become "isolated almost entirely . . . from the labor movement, the Negro people, and the farmers." The Worker since has reported that the national committee has called the decision of Erno Gero's Hungarian government to call in Soviet troops "a tragic error for which the Soviet Union must also take responsibility."

The reaction has been even sharper abroad. Jean-Paul Sartre, one of a group of left-wing French writers who recently broke with Red leaders, is challenging Soviet writers to "open debate" on the "Hungarian drama." Pablo Picasso and nine other Communist intellectuals attacked the party for "drawing a curtain of silence" over "burning problems of conscience." The chief editor of the Genoa edition of the Communist daily L'Unità quit his job and the party, and Pietro Nenni and his left-wing Socialists are edging away from the Reds. In Britain, the Northumberland branch of the party condemned Soviet intervention in Hungary, four staff members of the British Daily Worker resigned, and two top British Communist leaders also quit. The story is much the same in Canada, Austria, Japan and Switzerland.

What can the Soviets do to regain control of their international machinery? One suggestion came from East Germany last week, when a member of the German Politburo asked for revival of the Cominform to "meet strengthened reactionary attacks." The Cominform was dissolved last April, reportedly to conciliate Yugoslavia's Tito, who had been kicked out in 1948. But even in its hey-day, the agency had little of the power of the Comintern, disbanded by Stalin in 1943.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

At Yalta And Potsdam

The break-up of the Austro-Hungarian Empire at the end of World War I left the Danubian area in chaos from which it has not yet recovered. During the Yalta Conference in February 1945, this question was raised because Russian armies had come into possession of the Danubian countries, except Yugoslavia which was held by a Communist partisan army under Tito, who, it was assumed at the time, represented Soviet Russia. The policy of the United States, as it approached the Yalta Conference, was stated in a briefing paper to be to seek equal representation with Soviet Russia in Hungary.

The American Government encountered difficulties from the very start because it could not get a definition of the rights and powers of the American members of the Allied Control Commission for Hungary. Soviet Russia took the position that Hungary had been conquered and that the Russian armies were holding it. The United States expected to be consulted about decisions concerning Hungary but was not. The United States held that Soviet Russia did not have any special privileged or dominant position in Hungary but did not press the point. The United States was interested in free elections but such have never been held in Hungary.

The terms of the armistice agreement have not been lived up to, Soviet Russia taking possession and the United States and Great Britain being left out. The question of Hungary again arose at the Potsdam Conference which took place beginning July 17, 1945. President Harry Truman represented the United States and we have his direct testimony as to what happened there. In his autobiography, Truman says:

"When Rumania, Bulgaria, and Hungary were set up on a basis giving us free access to them, I declared, then we would recognize them, but not sooner. I said I was asking for the reorganization of the other satellite governments along democratic lines, as had been agreed upon at Yalta."

"Stalin objected to the words 'responsible and democratic governments' in the draft, saying that they should be deleted, since they served to discredit these countries. I pointed out that this language was necessary to show that the only way in which they could obtain our support for entry into the United Nations was for them to have democratic governments . . ."

Truman also says:

"In the Yalta Declaration on liberated Europe signed February 11, 1945, the three governments assumed certain obligations in regard to the liberated peoples of Europe and the peoples of the former Axis satellite states. Since the Yalta Conference, the obligations assumed under this declaration have not been carried out. In the opinion of the United States Government the continued failure to implement these obligations would be regarded throughout the world as evidence of lack of unity between the three great powers, and would undermine confidence in the sincerity of their declared aims."

Truman continues:

"That in conformity with the obligations contained in Clause (D) of the third paragraph of the Declaration on liberated Europe, the three governments consider how best to assist any interim governments in the holding of free and unfettered elections . . ."

The Hungarian people, defeated first by Hitler, then by Soviet Russia, abandoned by the Allies which made fine protestations of democracy at Yalta and Potsdam, would not be suffering today from Soviet imperialism, were it not that it has been American policy to appease Soviet Russia at any cost. This policy was adopted to prevent World War III and on the assumption that sooner or later Soviet Russia would become a decent nation. The result of such appeasement is the pogrom of the Hungarian people, the genocide of Hungary by Khrushchev and Zhou Enlai.

Kremlin Take Note: Third World War Is Possible

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Maybe this is a dispatch that the Kremlin's monitors who watch American public opinion ought to read very carefully. It may come as a surprise to them, as it did to this writer, who gathered the information. For the Soviets are playing with fire and probably don't know it can result in a blaze that would spread far and wide.

The other day, this correspondent began talking to the "man on the street" about the happenings in the world. One conversation out of several is, of course, not typical but, because it resembles so closely comments that became typical prior to the outbreak of two world wars, it is reproduced here for whatever point it may convey to readers here and abroad:

"What do you think of the world situation?" was my first question.

"Pretty bad, I'd say. I feel sorry for those poor Hungarians," was the reply of a taxi driver.

"Well, what can we do about it?"

"I don't know, but I don't like it."

"Would you have America go to war about it?"

"I just don't like to see us get pushed around."

"Would you favor sending our American boys into war in this situation?"

"Well, I was in the Second World War and in Korea, and there comes a time when you got to do something."

"Have you any sons?"

"Yes, two in the Navy and one in the Army."

"Aren't you worried about the big bomb—the one they say will destroy us all on both sides if it's used in war?"

"No—then we'll all be dead anyway—So what!"

The conversation may not by any means reflect present-day thinking in America. But it is significant of the way a determination to go to war slowly but surely develops over a period of time. It happened this way twice before.

There is something indefinable and even awesome about the way a nation makes up its mind to go to war. Having tried negotiation, having tried appeasement, having tried "co-existence," having tried everything, there comes a time when the demand is that military force be used. It has been generally assumed in the last few years that because of the terrible destruction the hydrogen bomb could wreak on both sides, there would be no global conflict again—neither side would allow it. History proves, however, that terror does not prevent war. Indeed, before 1939, the bombing of civilian populations was known to be a certain consequence of the outbreak of any war. The people of England submitted to bombing for many years rather than surrender. The human spirit can bravely risk death if there is a basic conviction of the justness of the cause.

Just when do a peaceful people make up their minds to go to war? At what exact moment does their patience become exhausted and do they fling themselves almost recklessly into a war that they become convinced must be fought and won if human liberty and freedom are to survive?

Nobody can answer that question as yet, with reference to present-day events. The men in the Kremlin are making the same mistake the Kaiser made in 1917 and that Hitler made in 1939. They both believed American military power would never be brought to bear on the side of Britain and France. Unfortunately, part of the error of the Soviet Union's rulers today is based on an undue emphasis they can note in American policy statements concerning "renunciation of the use of force." This, however, must be read as a hope applied to all sides rather than a self-prohibition. The most significant evidence of this is the overwhelming vote given by the Congress of the United States last year in authorizing the President under certain contingencies to use American military force in and around Formosa instantly—with out further consultation. This was an unprecedented grant of authority and seemed imperative in a nuclear age.

Something of the same type of authority may some day be given to the President by Congress to act in Europe and in the Middle East if the Soviet Union keeps on arming small countries and inciting them to war, and persists in using its own army to destroy the freedom of small nations. For, while a mission of liberation as such will probably never be initiated by the United States, there may come a time when the United Nations will authorize an international police force to act and then America will be going along with the other powers.

A third world war isn't as impossible as it seems, and Soviet policy-makers ought not to be under any illusions as to the manner in which a few people can be goaded into war.

Four times in the last 58 years war has been sanctioned by American public opinion—the Sino-American War, World Wars I and II, and the Korean War. In every instance, America sought to uphold a moral principle directly related to human liberty and freedom.

The latest pronouncement of moral principle by the United States government—issued on Sunday at Augusta, Georgia, by the President and Secretary of State—says:

"A particular responsibility, we believe, lies upon those members of the United Nations which, by adhering to the Atlantic Charter, pledged themselves to the principles of self-government for those who had been forcibly deprived of it, and the assurance of a peace which will give freedom from fear."

The foregoing words significantly remind the Soviet Union that it signed the Atlantic Charter for whose ideals America fought in World War II. These same words may become prophetic of a statement of objectives for which America may feel compelled to fight some day in World War III. It's worth thinking about in the Kremlin.

Bill of Rights doesn't guarantee you an egg in your ale. But it does guarantee something the fellow travelers are eating around like brown spots in a banana.

That certified something is a speedy trial. And up until the time of going to Presley not one cousin-Commie has demanded it.

They have dummed up on the Hungarian massacres while multigraphing the Suez invasion. Back in 1948 this column said the Commie pattern was as sharply outlined as a Chick Sales masterpiece in the moonlight.

When the campaign orators pull the forgive-and-forget business they were as wrong as the Ace Map makers. We are still trying to discover if the open skies monitoring makes allowances for smog.

It showed that the walkie-talkie outranks the sittee-Chinese in all languages.

That certified something is a speedy trial. And up until the time of going to Presley not one cousin-Commie has demanded it.

South Hagerstown, Westminster Schools Join CVAL

Eight Teams To Play In Grid Circuit

North Hagerstown, Ft. Hill Are Named 1956 Co-Champions

The Cumberland Valley Athletic League became an eight-school football circuit yesterday with the acceptance of South High School of Hagerstown and Westminster High School as members at a dinner meeting of school representatives at Park View Inn, Berkeley Springs, W. Va.

South High and the Owls from Carroll County will make their bow in 1957 and will compete with North Hagerstown, Fort Hill, Allegany, Frederick, Martinsburg and Handley High of Winchester, Va., for the championship and trophy. Each school must play the other seven schools in the league to be considered a contender for the title.

Compete In Basketball

The new entries also will compete in the basketball league during the 1957-58 season, along with Martinsburg, Fort Hill, Frederick, and North Hagerstown, the four schools entered in the 1956-57 cage race.

South Hagerstown and Westminster also will participate in the league's track and field meet next spring. The date for this meet will be set as soon as it is assured there will be no conflict with state meets in Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland. The site also will be announced at the same time.

Fort Hill and North Hagerstown were recognized as the co-champions of the football league for 1956 and each school will receive a trophy, a permanent award to be retired each year. The Sentinels and the Hubs wound up the season tied for first place in the six-school race with 11 records.

It was announced that an all-league football team will be selected for this year.

Handley Gets Trophy

Handley High School already has received the league trophy for winning the track and field meet at Fort Hill Stadium, May 18. The judges won 12 of the 15 events and piled up 105½ points. Fort Hill was runnerup with 72, followed by Martinsburg with 38½ and Frederick, 30.

There was talk relative to Allegany High School becoming the seventh member of the basketball league in 1957-58 and that would be possible only if there is a change in the WMI league's present setup. Handley is unable to compete in CVAL basketball because it is required a certain number of games with state schools to get into the Virginia title playoffs.

Victor D. Heissey, principal of Fort Hill High School presided at yesterday's session. Other Fort Hill representatives were Coaches William P. Hahn and John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh. Allegany was represented by W. Ardel Haines, principal, and coaches Chester D. Payne and Robert Eugene Shaw.

Principals of the eight schools were present as well as coaches Hunter Maddox, Handley; Mel Henry, North Hagerstown; Homer Brooks and Gene Hummel, Frederick; and Herb Ruby, Westminster. Coach John Cobourn, Martinsburg, was absent due to illness.

The league officials plan a spring meeting at a later date.

Soviet Paper Suggests Super Tall Cagers

MOSCOW, Dec. 5 (P)—The Russian trade paper Trud suggested today that the Soviet Union would have to breed "super tall" basketball players if they hoped to defeat the United States in the 1960 Olympic games in Rome.

Trud said one of the reasons for the strength of the American team at Melbourne was "their wonderful physique."

"Most of the American players are super tall—over two meters" (about six feet, six inches) said the publication, whereas only two players on the Soviet team are over two meters.

Russia Pulls To Within 20 Points Of U.S.

Americans Pinning Hopes On Swimmers

By TED SMITS

MELBOURNE, Dec. 6 (P)—Russian athletes were within 20 points of the United States in the battle for the unofficial team honors at the 1956 Olympic games, and American hopes of pulling out victory virtually disappeared today.

After Russian successes in gymnastics yesterday the score stood at 538½ points for the U.S. and 518½ for Russia. This was under the system of 10 points for each first place, and five, four, three, one, for the other five placings.

In gold medals, the U.S. leads with 31 to 23 for Russia. The Soviets lead in second place, or silver medals, with 25, against 22 for the U.S. Bronze medals show 24 for Russia and 12 for the Americans.

Russia Can Gain

Only a handful of swimming finals remain for the U.S. to pick up additional points, while Russia still has plenty to pick up in gymnastics, Greco-Roman wrestling, and fencing.

Thus domination of the United States in the Olympics that began with the first modern games in Athens in 1896 almost certainly is coming to an end.

Pretty Shelley Mann from Arlington, Va., led a grand slam sweep of the women's 105 meter butterfly swimming event, and set a new Olympic record of 1:11.00.

She was followed by Nancy Jane Murray of Mercer Island, Wash., and Mary Jane Sears of Chevy Chase, Md.

George Breen of Buffalo, N.Y., served notice on Australia's idol, Murray Rose, winner of Olympic 400 hundred meters, that the American must be reckoned with in the 1,500 or metric mile.

Breen smashed the world record in his qualifying trial, setting a new mark of 17:52.9. Rose's old record was 17:59.5. They meet in the finals Friday.

Williams Is Victor

In Yachting, Bert Williams of Chicago piloted the Kathleen to first place in the star class. The United States also picked up a third in the dinghy division as Sweden won two yachting firsts and Denmark and New Zealand copped the other gold medals.

And in swimming, 16-year-old Carin Cone of Ridgewood, N.J., lost a heart breaker to Judy Grinham of Britain in the 100 meters backstroke in which both girls were timed in 1:12.9 for a new Olympic record.

There also was hope for United States points—possibly even one, two, three—in the high dive in which Dick Connors, Pasadena, Calif., led after the six preliminary dives with 80.20.

The reason for American optimism is that the dives that lie ahead are of the optional and difficult character in which the Americans excel.

Americans are asking themselves at the Olympic village, "What went wrong in these games?"

Boxers Falterd

Actually things could scarcely have gone better in track and field. But the Australians cut severely into America points in swimming, and in gymnastics the Japanese failed to hold down the Russians as had been expected. In boxing the Russians did well and the Americans faltered, even to losing two boxers who missed making their weight by tiny margins.

In rowing the United States made its best Olympic showing ever, but the Russians were right at America's heels.

The American weightlifters did not fare as well as expected and the Russians did better than they hoped.

America Eliminated In Wrestling Events

MELBOURNE, Dec. 6, (Thursday) — (INS) — The last American vanished from the Olympic Greco-Roman wrestling tournament yesterday with the third-round defeat of five survivors of the neophyte U. S. team.

Three other U. S. grapplers had gone out earlier.

It was the first time the United States has entered a team in the sport, which was dominated by Russia in 1952 at Helsinki with four gold medalists.

"Will To Be Well" Aids Young Fairmont Gridder

Paralyzed Youth Is Now Walking

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5 (P)—A 17-year-old boy was ready to leave St. Francis General Hospital today—described by doctors as a walking example of the "will to be well."

By Sept. 1, Robert showed improvement. By mid-September, he was able to speak a little but still had to be fed by hand—a job that took an hour and a half.

By November, he began to move his right arm. He could walk a little and talk better. By the end of November, he was able to dance and he used his hands to make a mat for his mother.

Today was the big day. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Brown, were ready to take him home.

Four Gridders Are Renamed To Little College All-America

Schultz, Myhra,
Clark, Vidas Back

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (P)—A pair of exceptional ground gainers, the nation's most prolific small college passer and four members of last year's squad were named today on the 1956 Associated Press Little All-American football team.

Back for second year honors are end Charles Schultz of unbeaten, untied Alfred, tackle Vince Vidas of Drexel Tech, guard Steve Myhra of North Dakota and halfback Nate Clark from undefeated Hillsdale College (Mich.).

William Rhodes of Western State (Colo.) and Larry Houdek of Kansas Wesleyan are the running sensations with well over 1,000 yards apiece.

With 116 completions for 206 throws, Jimmy Stethlin of Brandeis in Waltham, Mass., led the small college field in passing. His aerials accounted for 1,155 yards.

Huge, Mobile Line

A huge, mobile line averaging 213 pounds pairs 6-6, 215 pound Milton Robichaux of Trinity (Texas) College with Schultz and 248 pound Don Owens of Mississippi Southern with Vidas.

On this all senior aggregation, Bob Mitchell of the College of Potomac Sound in Tacoma, Wash., Wash., was a solid choice as a tremendous 233 pounder playing opposite Myhra, who comes in at 230.

William Earp of Emory and Henry, who makes up for size in hustle and drive, is the center.

Rhodes completed the year with an even 1,200 rushing yards on 130 carries. His 8.49 yards per carry average over a four-year career is the highest in recorded gridiron history—big school or small. And his 4.24 yards rushing/gained on 506 tries is the second highest total on the books.

Houdek Hit Stride

Houdek hit full stride as tailback for Kansas Wesleyan of Salina this year. Houdek netted 1,432 yards in 168 carries. His 19 touchdowns for 114 points provide the best total in the country.

Stethlin, the slender passer from Allentown, Pa., became a running threat this season from Brandeis' spread formation designed to capitalize on his skills. Jimmy gained a respectable 411 yards a ground to build his total offense figure to 1,566.

While Clark was held below last year's statistical efforts, Coach Frank Walters tabs him "much better and more valuable this year than he was a season ago." Clark finished the year with 551 rushing yards, six completions in eight passes for 125 yards and a touch down and scored 84 points.

Earp was a tireless intruder whom Coach Casto Ramsey credits with making a first-rate team of a so-so outfit.

Earp blocked two punts against Tennessee Wesleyan and through the season blocked two extra points, intercepted four passes, batted down seven aerials, recovered three fumbles and was by far the best blocker on the team.

Tebbetts Predicts Numerous Deals

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 5 (P)—While the higher classification minor leagues were drafting 36 players at a cost of $156,750 today, major league executives were getting down to serious trade talk at the annual minor league meetings.

Although the only deal consummated thus far has been the eight-player swap between Detroit and Kansas City, officials were looking forward to one of the most active trade sessions in years.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts, whose Cincinnati Redlegs have been dickering with several clubs in hopes of strengthening their pitching staff, predicted every club in the National League will be involved in at least one trade either here or at the major league meetings in Chicago.

Frishy of St. Philip's poured 27 points through the hoops in leading his team to a 45-32 triumph over Potomac Park. The St. Philip's center garnered 11 of his team's 20 field goals in the onslaught.

Best for Potomac Park in the scoring column was R. Windle with 10 tallies.

Tonight's card will headline First Baptist and Centre Street: Methodist at 5 p. m. while Pentecostal Holiness meets St. Mark's Ashburn and Harvey Haddix of Reformed at 5:55 p. m. These teams also are in the National Division of the circuit. The line-ups:

Fullmer Leaves For Utah Home

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (P)—Middleweight title contender Gene Fullmer planned to leave tonight by plane for his home in West Jordan, Utah. Fullmer, whose championship bout with Sugar Ray Robinson was postponed Monday from Dec. 12 to Jan. 2, will return in time to see his brother, Jay, fight on Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden next Al Rosen and Baltimore's George Kell.

The most active would-be traders in the American League appear to be Washington, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore and Cleveland. The names most bandied about are a trio of third basemen—Washington's Eddie Yost, Cleveland's Al Rosen and Baltimore's George Kell.

Lillis batted .266 at St. Paul but he wallop 18 home runs and paced all the shortstops in total chances, double plays and in fielding percentage. Hamric batted .299 for the same club.

It was the first time in history the four high scorers wound up with more than 100 points and within a six-point bracket. It also was the second time in 39 years that teammates had scored more than 100 points each. Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis of Army did it in 1945 with 115 and 108 points, respectively.

Yule Mail Floods Japan

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Dec. 5 (AP)—Japanese trains are carrying extra cars these days, laden with Christmas cheer from home to this island nation.

Christmas packages by the ton are flooding into port and the 7th Army base post office here figures it will be handling 400 tons of mail a day by Christmas — double the normal volume.

Rec Board Has Plan For Consolidation

Copies of a charter amendment resolution which would consolidate functions of the Recreation Department, supervision and maintenance of various public parks into one department and centralize control of playgrounds and parks have been presented to members of the Mayor and Council.

The charter amendment, City Hall sources said, would pave the way for an area recreation plan being considered by the City Recreation Board.

This plan calls for dividing the city into three recreation areas and a park unit.

It calls for the services of three recreation supervisors and a superintendent of parks.

The area supervisors would have supervision over recreational activities in their areas, and the park superintendent would be in charge of parks in the city and maintenance over the parks and all playgrounds.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said the resolution was made available by the Cumberland Recreation Board for study by council. Eves added he could not see anything radical in it since it conforms with standard practices established for recreation in other cities.

The resolution would establish a Municipal Recreation and Park Commission to have jurisdiction over a department to be known as the "Department of Recreation and Parks." It provides for appointment of members, terms of office, powers, duties and authorizes council to include in the general tax levy any appropriations necessary for the commission to perform its duties.

Nine Members

Under the proposal the commission would consist of nine members. The Mayor would be an ex officio member and the eight others appointed by him for four years with approval of council. For organization purposes, however, the first appointees' terms would be staggered from one to four years. Members would elect their own chairman and secretary.

The commission would meet once a month or at such times as designated by the chairman, majority or administrative head of the department. It would give an annual report. Its powers and duties would include: (a) contract for services of a director of the Department of Recreation and Parks subject to approval of Mayor and Council; (b) authority to adopt and publish rules for playgrounds and parks including fines for violations of regulations; (c) to establish and publish fees and charges which may be made for use of any recreational or park facilities; (d) establish regulations pertaining to duties of various members of the department including the director; (e) establish from time to time public policy concerning development of recreational and park facilities; (f) authority to accept in the name of the Mayor and Council, with its approval, any real estate donated for recreation or park purposes; (g) contract for purchase of park, recreational facilities and for sale of any equipment or land which may be under its jurisdiction; (h) authority to enter into contracts for purchase of supplies and equipment for performance of public works within the budgetary allowance provided in the city charter.

Provides For Personnel

In creating the Department of Recreation and Parks, the resolution provides for an administrative head known as the director of recreation and parks, and for other personnel as the commission deems necessary, with the director naming the employees subject to approval of the commission and within the limitation of the financial budget approved for the department by council.

All employees would be subject to Classified Service (Civil Service) with the exception of the administrative head who would be employed by contract on recommendation of the commission and approved by council.

The director would be charged with supervisor of personnel, planning, management, care and control of all public parks, gardens and city beautification; maintenance and preservation of shade trees, shrubbery; supervision, management care and control of all recreational facilities, owned or later acquired, including but not limited to golf courses, tennis courts and the like. This would not include school playgrounds unless they are under lease to the city by the Allegany County Board of Education.

Under the proposed resolution, the commission is charged with presenting an annual budget to council which when approved would be included in the general tax levy. Any fees collected would be deposited daily with the city treasurer and the auditor is given the right to inspect books of the department at any time and make suggestions for bookkeeping and accounting procedures.

Opening lead: Jack of clubs. In most games the best defense eventually succumbs to the best offense. However, this is not always true in bridge as witness today's contest where the issue remained in doubt until trick 11.

Against the four spade contract, West led the jack of clubs. East won with the ace and returned the queen. Had East chosen to pass the first trick to South's king, the hand would have unfolded in a different manner. Actually, there is no risk in passing the first lead, because if South had a singleton king, West would have four and the proper lead from such holding would be a small one, not the jack.

South led a diamond to the jack in order to try the spade finesse. When East showed out, the loss of two clubs and two spaces appeared inevitable. However, South played on in the hope that something might happen. South won with the ace, led a heart to the ace and ruffed a heart. He returned to dummy with the king of diamonds and ruffed another heart. He then led his last diamond to dummy, and on the fourth round of hearts declarer ruffed in with the queen of spades. He had played the preceding tricks in such rapid order that he hoped to lure West into the rhythm. If he had been hurried into over-ruffing South's queen the defense would have collapsed for West would have to lead a spade and sacrifice his second trump trick, or a diamond, which permits declarer to ruff in dummy and discard his losing club.

West declined to overruff but had to choose his discard with great care. If he made the lazy discard of the eight of diamonds, he would surrender the contract, for declarer would get out with a club; West would be forced to ruff, and in the end play must concede a trick to declarer's jack of trumps. West therefore made the unusual discard of a trump, and declarer was now helpless. As he got out with a club, West let go the diamond. East was in at trick 11, and West took the last two tricks with the king and the ten of spades.

Dead Horse In The Amazon

LETICIA, Colombia — But — come to think of it — appropriate. The Amazon has a strong streak of glue in its otherwise splendid makeup. Along its banks live some of the world's least friendly Indians, some of the world's most deadly snakes like the fer de lance and the bushmaster, to say nothing of the world's largest snake, the anaconda, and hordes of poisonous insects.

But, after making allowances for these minor discomforts, the river has great charm. Life along the great rivers—the Nile, the Amazon, the Mississippi—has great points in common. Lite around ten miles an hour, which moves slowly, very slowly. The women move with a stately grace and after a few days of this steamy climate you find your own walk gets pretty stately, too. The river is dotted with tiny communities whose people remind me strongly of the Cajuns. Like the Cajuns they're friendly, laughing people and also like the Cajuns their life centers around their boats.

Just what happens when the waters close over is a matter of intense speculation but no real knowledge. The water is muddy. Most of these little towns are built on stilts to protect them from the river which the stilts can't see below the surface. There are the deadly little don't always do. (The Amazon piranha down there and snakes when it gets in a nasty mood can and alligators and huge catfish rise thirty feet, a tremendous that are supposedly man-eaters rise for so broad a river.) Down though that is very much a stream a few miles is Esperenza, matter of conjecture, too. Or a sort of Brazilian Atlantic City, maybe the current just swirls at least it has its own boardwalk, people to the bottom. Nobody a rickety affair fourteen feet knows what happens to people or racehorses except they disappear. What was the racehorse doing here in the first place? Leticia, I ought to explain, is at the confluence of three countries. A fifteen-minute walk through the woods puts you into Brazil, where you encounter not only different currency but a different language (Portuguese). Across the river is Peru.

Even here you run into that sort of snobbery we have at home for anything imported from France or Italy. For instance, if you buy some of the local whisky, the bartender will tell you with great pride: "It's from Peru." That just means it's from across the river but it's supposed to give the booze some magical quality which I have yet to detect.

I'm here with the cast and crew of "Zoo Parade" which is intent on capturing some of the cute local fauna like bushmasters and anacondas on color film. The difficulties are enormous. For one thing, film in this humidity tends to swell. Both raw and exposed film has to be kept in an air-conditioned room. Another problem is transportation.

United Fund Study Group Is Appointed

Will Begin Work At Dec. 12 Meeting

A 21-member committee has been asked to meet here next week to begin work on a study of the factors and problems involved in the establishment of a United Fund plan for financing the work of health and charitable organizations.

The committee will begin its work at a dinner meeting called for Wednesday, December 12, at 6:30 p.m. in the ballroom of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Invited to serve on the study group are Mrs. Harry Beneman, Edmund S. Burke, C. S. Catherman Jr., Dr. Lillian Compton, William A. Gunter, R. M. Hainsfurther, Melvin C. Harris, Judge George Henderson, Dr. W. Royce Hodges.

Study Is Asked

A. Earl Johnson, T. J. Klauenberg, William H. Lemmert, John J. McMullen, J. Kenneth Morgan, Lewis J. Ort, C. M. Samner, W. T. Smith, C. E. Stutzman, William C. Walsh and Kenneth J. Williams.

The committee was selected by Charles L. Kopp, president of the Cumberland Community Chest, who was named temporary chairman when some 50 citizens of the community met November 28 for preliminary discussion on whether the proposed United Plan might be adopted here.

At that meeting, the sentiment was unanimous that a careful study should be undertaken of the factors and problems involved.

Report Is Slated

The committee which has been asked to serve is composed of business, industry and labor leaders of the Cumberland area and representative citizens.

In letters urging appointees to serve, Dr. Kopp pointed out that many citizens of Cumberland have, for some time, had a strong feeling that the time has arrived when this city should join with many other progressive cities and adopt the United Fund plan for fund raising.

After the study is completed, a report will be given to community leaders early in February, when the findings and recommendations will be outlined.

Some 900 cities throughout the nation have adopted the United Fund plan during the past six years.

Fourth Fatality Is Reported In Deer Season

With the report that another deer hunter has died, the total number of fatalities, including three men who apparently died of heart attacks, has risen to four since the season opened on Monday.

Meanwhile, Elmer Smith, 45, of Bowling Green, is reported to be somewhat improved although in "critical" condition at Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was admitted Monday after being accidentally shot in the chest by an older hunter.

The latest victim (of a heart attack) while hunting in the district woods is Clarence L. Lewis, 34, of Terra Alta, who was with a party of hunters near Salt Lick, Preston County, not far from his home.

A searching party found the body of Benjamin Vickers, 57, of Moundsville, W. Va. on Tuesday in a remote section of Cheat Mountain in Randolph County.

Authorities said Vickers became separated from a hunting party Monday and when he failed to turn up Tuesday morning police were notified.

In the evening Gale Sweeney, wildlife manager for the Elkins district, found Vickers' body, but the searchers worked until 10:30 p.m. before getting his body out of the wooded section.

Authorities said the area was so dense the volunteers had to cut a road in order to get the body out.

Others who have died since the opening of deer season were William Ambrose, 75, of Berkeley Springs, who was stricken by a heart attack while hunting with a party in Morgan County Tuesday, and Charles "Bud" Verbal, 50, of Bedford County, who was accidentally killed when he was shot by another hunter's gun.

Pastor In Hospital

Rev. C. H. Goshorn, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Lonaconing, is reported in "good" condition at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted earlier this week.

Blough, Earl W., 54, Frostburg.

County Heads Back Increase For Teachers

Allegany Old Age Plan Is Adopted

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 5 (AP) — The State Assn. of County Commissioners decided unanimously today to support a proposed $300 increase in minimum salaries for Maryland public school teachers.

The resolution submitted by Clayton Carter of Queen Anne's County left it to the Legislature and the governor to find a method of financing the increase "by equitable means and in relief of personal property taxes."

Carter said the legislative committee of the state association had abandoned a previous proposal that the state sales tax be increased by one per cent to finance it.

The 40 county officials from 16 counties attending today's meeting went on record favoring the State Board of Education's proposal for a pay increase.

Most Pay More

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent of schools, said the $300 increase would be spread over a two-year period to establish a scale of $3,600 to $5,400 for teachers with four-year degrees.

He said the present state minimum scale, ranging from $2,700 for starting teachers to $4,600 for those with eight years or more experience is "no longer realistic" and that most counties are now paying above that minimum.

He estimated the proposed boost would cost the state 11 million dollars more each year.

Cites Two Sources

Sen. Edward S. Northrop (D-Montgomery), chairman of the Legislative Council's Committee on Taxation and Fiscal Matters, said unofficial estimates compiled by his group indicate no such pay raise will be possible without an accompanying tax bill.

He said the Legislature probably would turn to either the sales tax or income tax for the necessary funds if such a bill is passed.

Before backing the pay raise proposal, the commissioners' legislative group had considered asking that the Legislature boost the sales tax one per cent, earmark ing all of the increase for the counties to use in defraying rising school costs. The property tax presently carries most of these costs.

In other action at their meeting today, the commissioners:

Adopt County Plan

1. Turned down a Frederick County proposal by Delbert S. Null that one member of each county board of education be a county commissioner.

2. Endorsed an Anne Arundel County resolution that a new pay scale be adopted for assessors, with the state paying 60 per cent instead of the current 50-50 split.

3. Adopted an Allegany County plan to set new income scales for guidance of local welfare boards in determining old age assistance payments.

Lemmert Wins Post

4. Referred to the State Tax Commission proposals urging it to "greater effort" in equalizing property assessments and asking that it reconsider methods now used for assessing farm property.

The association elected Thomas Kay of Cecil County as its new president succeeding Ralph L. Lowman of Anne Arundel County.

William H. Lemmert of Allegany County was named vice president and the following were elected directors: John W. Eveland of Caroline County, Joseph G. Garrison of Worcester, Leslie H. Evans of Wicomico, Delbert S. Null of Frederick, Mrs. Stella Werner of Montgomery and Clarence V. Eldridge of Washington.

The association elected Thomas Kay of Cecil County as its new president succeeding Ralph L. Lowman of Anne Arundel County.

Both cases were appealed to the circuit courts of appeals in their respective jurisdictions. On November 12, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va., reversed the decision of the West Virginia courts, and ruled that the eight per cent tax on "wire and equipment services" has no application to cable company systems.

The government has the right to appeal the decision to the U. S. Supreme Court, but at this time it is not known whether it will do so.

Action Is Pending

Meanwhile the Pahoulis Case

in Pittsburgh has been appealed by the NCTA, and a ruling of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals is expected in the near future, said Geppert. The losing party in this case will have the opportunity of appealing to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Until the matter is clarified by a final judicial decision said Geppert, PV-TV will be required to continue the collection of the eight per cent tax.

In the event the tax is finally declared to the invalidated PV-TV will obtain the necessary forms and furnish necessary administrative work in enabling its subscribers to obtain refunds, Mr. Geppert said.

He also said about $100,000 would be refunded to residents in this area who are subscribers. This figure represents the tax that has been collected over a five-year period.

Rev. Lawton Will Speak At Rally

Rev. T. O. Lawton, pastor of Southminster Presbyterian Church, 306 Race Street, will speak at the Tri-State Youth for Christ rally Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Salvation Army Citadel.

The Sword Drill playoff, scheduled for last week, was postponed until this week because of the illness of several contestants, according to Dwight I. Evans, director.

School Receives Trophy

Kenneth E. Sheetz (right), principal of Bruce High School, receives the Junior Association of Commerce Voice of Democracy contest trophy which his school will keep for one year because Miss Carol Eaton, above, a junior at the Westernport school, won the county finals.

Miss Eaton Presented JC Trophy

Miss Carol Eaton, a junior at Bruce High School, Westernport, was presented a trophy last night by Ronald J. Screen, vice president of the Cumberland Junior

Association of Commerce, in recognition of her victory in the 10th annual "I Speak for Democracy" contest sponsored by the Jaycees.

She will represent this county in state finals Saturday in Baltimore.

Miss Eaton, along with other contestants, had been invited to be a dinner guest at last night's regular meeting of the Jaycees in the Ali Ghan Country Club. She delivered her talk for the members.

The Jaycees also presented awards to Dorothy A. Vose, Allegany High School, second place winner; Judith Ann Marshall, Valley High School, third; and Stanley Oldaker, Fort Hill High School, fourth place winner. Other contestants present included Harry E. Welsh, St. Peter's High School, Westernport; Rose Marie Condry, Ursuline; and Linda Travis, St. Mary's School.

Kenneth Sheetz, principal at Bruce high accepted a trophy for the school, which will be retained for one year, in recognition of Miss Eaton's achievement. Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, was a guest and spoke briefly on the merits of the contest.

Albert M. Jacobs, chairman of the education and manpower committee of the Western Maryland Section of the American Chemical Society, spoke on proposals to establish a four-year college here.

He outlined the four possible avenues of approach to the problem, (1) a branch of the University of Frostburg State Teachers College; (2) a new state institution; (3) a privately financed institution.

He urged the Jaycees to lend their support to the idea.

Thomas Conlon Jr., chairman of the Jaycee blood bank committee, urged support of the Red Cross blood donor program and reported on recruitment operations of the committee for donors.

Community 3, Paul H. Brown, Justin Heavner, James H. House, Frank Hunnibell, L. Littlefield, Robert Lestogen, Broze Lough, Curtis F. Middlebrook, Earl F. Stonestreet, and Lawrence H. Twigg.

Community 4, Harry H. Delbrook, R. W. Ferguson, Henry W. Ford, Herman Greise, Earl H. Lepley, A. N. McLuckie, Herbert R. Paul, Alva V. Pennel, Edgar C. Repmann and James H. Weimer.

Community 5, Charles T. Clise, Arch Davis, Cecil E. Green, Charles S. Harvey, William Jenkins, Clarence O. Miller, Marshall R. Porter, T. W. Rexroad, Ivan Wilson and Paul N. Yoder.

The top five candidates will be chosen from among the members of the community committee and the person with the highest number of votes will be chairman.

The votes will be tabulated on December 11 at the local ASC office where they are being deposited in the ballot box as they are received by Miss Hoover.

On December 14 the county convention will be held at the office at which time the chairman from the five communities will elect the county committee for 1957.

Missing Boys Found

Two youths who have been missing from their homes for over a week have been located.

Edward Lewis Bittner Jr., of RD 1 city, who left home November 26 to attend classes at Allegany High School, is reported to have been located in Baltimore.

The other youth, Roger A. Hartman, of Frost Avenue, who was reported missing December 2, has been located in Delaware, according to authorities.

She said the type of books being sought include quiz books, juvenile and poetry books, dictionaries, westerns and mysteries. Miss Walsh said that the library has facilities to mend books which may need repairs.

Salaries, new roads, debt retirement, maintenance — these are some of the places the money would go.

It is the largest single total of any state agency which has submitted a budget request. The SRC request of $88,602,558 boosted to more than $287,2 million dollars the total which must be whopped into shape by the Board of Public Works for presentation to the General Assembly by the governor.

Half a dozen agencies are still to be heard from.

The SRC request made no change in the amount sought from the state's general fund. It expects to receive roughly 29½ million dollars in federal funds next year.

The remainder of its budget will be supported by motor vehicle revenue.

Special funds requested amount ed to $58,954,600, better than 12 per cent higher than the current appropriation.

More than half of the SRC request—52 per cent, of $46,257,178—

would go for building new roads in Maryland. Another 12 per cent, almost 11 million dollars, would be of the State gas tax and auto regis-
